Fluke Announces 25 Percent Discount For Students

Fluke

Fluke Corp. announces the "My First Fluke" [1] program, which allows students actively enrolled in technical or vocational schools, colleges, universities, apprenticeship programs, or high schools in the United States to purchase one Fluke tool at a 25 percent discount.

Eligible products [1] include:

- Fluke® 376 True-rms AC/DC Clamp Meter with iFlex™
- Fluke 373 True-rms AC Clamp Meter
- Fluke 323 Series Clamp Meter
- Fluke 902 True-rms HVAC Clamp Meter
- Fluke 87V True-rms Digital Multimeter (DMM)
- Fluke 233 Remote Display DMM
- Fluke 179 True-rms DMM with 80BK Temperature Probe
- Fluke 117 True-rms DMM with Non-contact Voltage Detection
- Fluke 116 True-rms DMM for HVAC
- Fluke 114 True-rms DMM
- Fluke 1587 Insulation DMM
- Fluke T+PRO Electrical Tester
- Fluke T5-1000 Voltage, Continuity and Current Tester
- Fluke 88V DMM for Automotive

The "My First Fluke" program complements the existing Fluke Education Program [2], which provides an unlimited 25 percent discount to not-for-profit educators and union instructors.

"Students hear their mentors preach 'nothing but the best, safest tools' when it comes to measuring electricity, but students can't always afford the best tool," says Amy Hansen, global brand director at Fluke Corporation. "We're excited to make our best-in-class tools more affordable for students." Fluke's own research [3] shows that the first tool used by most electricians and maintenance technicians is either a multimeter or a voltage tester.

Terms and conditions

Tools offered at the 25 percent discount are for currently enrolled U.S. students only. This is a lifetime offer of one tool per person. See complete terms and conditions on the website [2].
