Tube Fittings Fit For A King

The double-ferrule, instrumentation-grade tube fittings from Brennan Industries feature interchangeable nut and ferrule sets, allowing the use of one manufacturer's set within the body of another's. With design characteristics that are comparable in form, function and fit to several other manufacturers, the fittings are also intermixable. Each fitting is Brennan stamped, thread protected and packaged in its own pouch to keep it clean from contaminants. Traceable codes are printed on the box.
