Welding Ranks Among 'Worst Jobs'

CNN lists the 10 best and worst jobs for Americans in 2009, with actuaries and historians ranking highly for competitive salaries and normal business hours. Among the worst? Pretty much anything manufacturing, which is a shame. According to CNN, welding is among the worst possible jobs an American can have. It's a shame welding gets such a bad rap, especially when one considers that an overwhelming number of Americans are depending on manufacturing to pull us out of the recession. Check out the video for the remaining "worst jobs."
