

Master Appliance Launches YouTube Channel

RACINE, Wis. — Master Appliance, a designer and manufacturer of heat tools for industrial purposes, has announced a new YouTube channel, which can be found here [1].

In addition, the company has released its first video, titled "Replacing A Defective Capacitor on an IMac G5 Motherboard." The video can be seen below, or on YouTube [2].

Removal of a defective capacitor, on an IMac G5 motherboard. The Master Appliance UT-100Si creates a hot enough tip temperature to avoid heat dispersion through the large ground plane layers of this board.
