

Wirefox Wire Strippers

Phoenix Contact

Phoenix Contact's (Middletown, PA) extensive line of hand tools now includes the Right Angle Wirefox wire strippers, designed for ergonomic cable stripping. The right angle makes it easier to reach wires and cables in difficult locations. Right Angle Wirefox strippers are durable and tested for 150,000 strip cycles, and the replaceable stripping blades are estimated to last 25,000 cycles. The stripping pliers feature a changeable limit stop for the stripping length and are adjustable for insulation thickness. The wire strippers are self-adjusting for a wide range of cross sections. The Wirefox strippers come in four different sizes to handle different applications:

- 28-12 AWG
- 16-8 AWG
- 34-8 AWG
- 15-5 AWG
