

Keeping An Eye On Things

Invensys Operations Management (Plano, TX) announces the availability of its Avantis PRO 5.0 enterprise asset management (EAM) software that allows users to organize, track, and manage maintenance activity and costs over time. The new version of the EAM solution includes customizable screen views and improvements in data-type awareness, multi-column list controls, and maintenance entity value optimization. A new Maintenance Map displays the health status of the entire organization in real-time, and the Contractor Management module organizes contract expenses, prices, and invoices for both current and past projects.
