

All-Stainless Cylinders

Fabco-Air (Gainesville, FL) now offers 3 new styles of cylinders with all exposed surfaces made of stainless steel. The new styles include:

- The Pancake, a round, compact cylinder that has a uni-body construction and a smooth outside surface that doesn't trap wash down solution or allow bacteria growth.
- NFPA tie rod cylinders.
- The "F" Series throw-away styles that provide an easy interchange for applications requiring the upgrade to complete stainless steel protection, such as medical or food manufacturers and packaging operations.
