

Clean Up With Dry Ice

The IceBlast KG50 from Ice Tech (West Chester, OH) is an industrial-strength dry ice blaster, which can be used to clean manufacturing equipment faster than traditional methods. According to the company, dry ice blasting allows for reduced maintenance downtime and fewer environmentally-damaging products in your facility. Up to four programs can be stored in the machine's memory, which helps promote a more uniform cleaning and prevent overconsumption of dry ice due to incorrect blasting parameters.
