

iPad®-Based Fan Control

Big Ass Fans

The new BAFWorks™2.0 from Big Ass Fans (Lexington, KY) takes the iPad®-based control system to the next level, giving users more control over Big Ass Fans® than ever before, says the company. With BAFWorks 2.0, users can now include Pivot™ and Pivot180 fans, as well as previous industrial fan models in the BAFWorks system. By enabling access to all fans from one centralized location, BAFWorks can save users valuable time while providing security and control with a lockout feature and password protection. For increased ease of operation, the new grouping option can be used to control up to 32 groups of fans, including an unlimited number and variety of fans.
